

Saturday, January 5th 1991

Today's Topics:

Re: Paranet Newsletter 341
RE: MARS FACE - Hoagland's Mars Show
Re: Resonant Gravity Field Coils
Hoagland's Mars
Hoagland broadcast
Mars Face
Hoagland's program
Re: Crop Circles
New Affiliates
RE: Mars Face

-----
I will be changing mailboxes here from 'infopara' to 'paramod' however, articles should still be mail to the same address. Please, alias 'paramod' to 'infopara' at your site so this will not be a problem. I will be using better software to change mail into articles here and the stuff doesn't like mailer demon messages from bounced mail. This change will happen in about one week.

-Cyro (Moderator @ UUCP host site.)
-----

From: cwns2.ins.cwru.edu!ah174
Subject: Re: Paranet Newsletter 341
Date: 2 Jan 91 17:40:57 GMT

From: ah174@cleveland.freenet.edu (Greg Johns)

+Now the bad news. The origin of the file is probably untraceable. The +Usenet poster said that he had gotten it from a friend, and the friend had +downloaded it from BIX. (BYTE Information Exchange, a commercial BBS with +[mostly] a highly technical usership.) No information as to the identity +of the BIX uploader was given anywhere. Worse, the only identification the +authors of the file provided were 'Shadow Hawk' and 'Eagle One'. They +sound like hackers' (negative sense) or phreakers' handles, and in fact
+they list three BBS numbers, one of which is named 'Pirate 80' and another
+which is flagged 'Invitation Only'. I haven't tried the numbers; I don't +even know where in the U.S. they are or how old the file is.

+
+

+If there's enough interest, I could post the file here. I'm not doing it
+now because it's about 19K, and I want to see if it's already been debunked
+as complete rubbish before I waste bandwidth.

-----

Don't put this in the letter, but I know I have seen that file before, and I'm pretty sure those are 'elite' boards. If you could send me the file, I could probably say for sure.

'Pirate 80' might even be local to me.

oh, the letter is great!

--

Greg Johns / _Eagle_		Be Sure To Catch
InterNet: ah174@cleveland.freenet.edu		Buster & Babs on:
BitNet: ah174@cleveland.freenet.edu@cunyv		Tiny Toon Adventures!
FidoNet: ?		-----

-----

From: hpvclmd.vcd.hp.com!miked
Subject: RE: MARS FACE - Hoagland's Mars Show
Date: 3 Jan 91 00:18:26 GMT

From: Mike Dobbs <miked@hpvclmd.vcd.hp.com>

On December 14, NASA put the airing of the show Hoagland's MARS on hold. It was 9 months in the making, scheduled for broadcast for about 2 months and then 3 weeks before air time (JAN 6) the show was put on hold by NASA headquarters.

Richard Hoagland appears weekly (usually Fridays) on a radio talk show called 'For the People' with host Chuck Harder on the Sun Radio Network. Richard was making the show very public and advising listeners to contact their local PBS TV station and Cable company to let them know about the show and let them know how interested the public was in seeing it. In my opinion, the fact that this show was no longer going to be seen by a very small and limited audience made somebody very nervous. So three weeks ago the show was cancelled. Hoagland then got back on 'For the People' and gave out names and phone numbers of people at NASA and Bob Roe, Chairman of the House Committee of Science, Space, & Technology. Thousands of people started calling, faxing and writing. As a result NASA has now decided they have to present something so they are completely re-editing the program and have not yet scheduled the new date. It is Richard Hoaglands feeling that this 'maniputation' of the show is designed to make him look bad. They are going to now add interviews with planetary scientists to debunk the whole thing and not give Hoagland and the others at the Mars Project any chance for rebuttle.

This thing smells of a cover-up... Why has NASA invited Hoagland to speak to large NASA audiences at Research Center three times? Why did they spend nine months working on a educational TV show, get it

If you want to write or call somebody to try to get some answers, here is a list.

Richard Hoagland                      phone (703) 228-5524
The Mars Mission
P.O. Box 981
Wytheville, VA  24382

Mike Dobbs / Internet: miked@vcd.hp.com

```
> sysop hasn't been > around for a while -- he's been arrested for computer > crimes. The sysop > didn't seem to be too impressed with his file, and said
```

- > that he thinks he
- > copied it from a Consumertronics publication.

I think he copied it, too. Except for that interesting little annotation.

BTW, "crackers" (as distinguished from hackers) may be amoral, childish, antisocial types, but as a rule their "accomplishments" tend to be genuine. I mean, if they weren't dangerous, why seize their computers and read their userlogs into the FBI computer for our protection?

- > I know that Tesla was rather eccentric (to be kind), but
- > I'm not sure if he
- > was always that way or whether it was a worsening
- > condition. If it got
- > worse over time, it could've been psychological.

He got noticeably worse during his work at Colorado Springs & Wardenclyffe. That was when he started his long obsession with birds, especially pigeons. His condition stabilized after J.P. Morgan & Westinghouse pulled the plug on Wardenclyffe and he didn't have the funding to continue his experiments.

- > He was involved in a feud
- > with Edison and a lawsuit against Marconi, wasn't he?

Yeah, he saved Edison's N.Y. operation by fixing Edison's downtown N.Y. generating station. Then Edison refused to give Tesla the raise he had promised Tesla for saving the bacon. Edison was a dirtbag, anyway, first trying to steal Tesla's polyphase AC patents (he failed) and then trying to discredit Tesla after he sold his patents to Westinghouse. When Tesla & Westinghouse introduced AC power, it naturally became the world standard of power generation and transmission, thus dooming Edison to marketing movies and gramophone cylinders. Read Margaret Cheney's book on the subject "Man Out of Time". It's outstanding.

Tesla won the patent suit against Marconi, too. Tesla actually demonstrated remote control by RADIO at the 1897 World's Fair. He used it to control a small electric boat. David Sarnoff was a Marconi ally and successfully suppressed Marconi's loss and Tesla's victory -- and of course the royalties were not paid to Tesla's estate until many, many years after Tesla's death. And after many, many lawyers swilled at the trough first.

- > Who was Jack Parsons?

Jack Parsons was the founding director of the Jet Propulsion Laboratory in Pasadena and the guiding genius of the U.S. P-80 and F-86 jet fighter program during WWII. He died in 1946 at the age of 32 (I think).

>

- > I'm sure that such devices could be dangerous. From a
- > purely
- > electromagnetic perspective, what would happen if the power
- > failed
- > unexpectedly?

Think of the E-field generated by the coil as a bubble of alternate spacetime that is pulled into our own spacetime. A corresponding bubble of our spacetime is intruding into the "other" spacetime as long as the coil works normally and the bubble grows, exists, and shrinks slowly. When power fails, things "snap back". Indications are that the corresponding "bubble" is much larger, volumetrically, than the "bubble" induced in our time-space continuum (meaning that the "alternate universe" is two or three times larger than our own??? you tell me...)

- > (The file I have advises against letting
- > this happen!) I
- > envision the power supply exploding from the induced
- > current.

That is certainly a strong likelihood, James. But it gets weirder. Power fails regularly with the things, despite all precautions. This phenomenon is one of several anomalies associated with devices like these. Other anomalies include capacitors that get colder the longer they run.

- > And if it *does* somehow alter local spacetime, have
- > you seen the
- > Star Trek: The Next Generation episode where Wesley is
- > hacking the warp
- > drive and traps his mother in a collapsing universe? :-)
- > (And it just ran
- > again on Saturday, too...)

Yeah, that was a good one. Hardly a "roof raiser", but a good one.

- >
- > +You know your Allende!
- >
- > Well, if you're ever in Montgomery and see a group of
- > people apparently
- > laying their hands on thin air...

Watch it! Al Blieleck might pop up! Or Elvis. Or Jimmy Hoffa. Or me.

- > But seriously, 'Dr. Rinehart' said that the Experiment was
- > covered up not
- > because of the technology involved but because of the > embarrassment of the > lives destroyed.

Sounds right. Look at the "Operation Tiger" D-Day rehearsal.
750 men died in that fiasco and the military still won't admit it happened.

> So I guess the question becomes, does > Allende talk about > the Experiment because he's crazy, or is he crazy because > of the > Experiment?

Yes.

Hehehehehe.

--

Clark Matthews - via FidoNet node 1:310/8

UUCP: !scicom!paranet!User_Name

INTERNET: Clark.Matthews@p0.f4.n1012.z9.FIDONET.ORG

-----
From: ncar!marob.masa.com!upaya!tbetz
Subject: Hoagland's Mars
Date: 3 Jan 91 19:34:06 GMT

From: Tom Betz <upaya!tbetz@marob.masa.com>

| From: John.Finney@f701.n362.z1.FIDONET.ORG (John Finney)

| In a message of <Dec 26 21:02>, Paul Faeder (9:1010/0) writes:

| > A 30 minute video program based on Hoagland's studies of the 'Mars Face'
| > will be broadcast via the Weststar 4 satellite as part of the NASA Lewis
| > (Cleveland) Educational Television Series. The program will be broadcast
| > at 12 noon on January 6, 1991 and should be accessible to anyone with a
| > satellite dish.

| I heard Friday that this got canceled by NASA with no explanation or future
| date for broadcast.

I heard Hoagland interviewed last night on 'For The People' (WWCR 7520 AM -- just above the 41 Meter band, I believe -- highly recommended for Paranetters, BTW). He says that Plan A (cancel the program) has been dropped in favor of Plan B (discredit Hoagland).
The program is being re-edited under the control of the Planetary
Science group at NASA, including statements from NASA planetary scientists explaining away Hoagland's claims, in such a manner as to make Hoagland look a fool.

He says that his information comes from NASA insiders who are POed as he is about it.

--

----- 'Healt ut industri di go hond-e-hond.'
Tom Betz | -----
914-375-1510 | marob!upaya!tbetz@phri.nyu.edu betz@marob.uucp%phri.nyu.edu
GBS | {att,philabs,rutgers,cmcl2}!phri!marob!upaya!tbetz

-----

From: Kurt.Lochner@f22.n14766.z1.FIDONET.ORG (Kurt Lochner)
Subject: Hoagland broadcast
Date: 1 Jan 91 13:00:46 GMT

Re: Hoagland "Mars Face" broadcast...

>
> I heard Friday that this got canceled by NASA with no > explanation or future date for broadcast. There > might be a problem since Weststar 4 is almost "dead" > (meaning almost out of maneuvering fuel) and might not > be operational (with no fuel it can't stay on location > properly) at that time. There is a big ruckus being > raised about the broadcast being stopped.

So what transponder was this to be on? I can't find any mention of this in any of my older sat/references.

--

Kurt Lochner - via FidoNet node 1:310/8
UUCP: !scicom!paranet!User_Name
INTERNET: Kurt.Lochner@f22.n14766.z1.FIDONET.ORG

-----

From: Paul.Faeder@p0.f0.n1010.z9.FIDONET.ORG (Paul Faeder)
Subject: Mars Face
Date: 2 Jan 91 23:02:43 GMT

In a message of <30 Dec 90 09:52:02>, John Finney (1:362/701) writes:

>I heard Friday that this got canceled by NASA with no explanation or >future date for broadcast.

Thanks for the update!

--

Paul Faeder - via FidoNet node 1:310/8
UUCP: !scicom!paranet!User_Name
INTERNET: Paul.Faeder@p0.f0.n1010.z9.FIDONET.ORG

-----
From: mcorbin@paranet.FIDONET.ORG (Michael Corbin)
Subject: Hoagland's program
Date: 3 Jan 91 15:41:00 GMT

I would appreciate it if anyone able to tape the program would send me a copy. I will be happy to pay for it.

Thanks,

Mike

--

Michael Corbin - via FidoNet node 1:310/8
UUCP: !scicom!paranet!User_Name
INTERNET: mcorbin@paranet.FIDONET.ORG

-----
From: mcorbin@paranet.FIDONET.ORG (Michael Corbin)
Subject: Re: Crop Circles
Date: 4 Jan 91 20:56:00 GMT

I got this from Science. Thought you might enjoy it.

- * Forwarded from "Science Echo"
- * Originally from Maury Markowitz
- * Originally dated 12-30-90 11:26

> So you're saying that the crop circle phenomenon is just a > world-wide conspiracy of farmers having a few yucks on gullible city > folk?...

Not at all. I'm saying that the crop circles in NORTH AMERICA are more that likely just that though. They are considerably more "low tech", and much less common. The last I saw was obviously a sprayed crop, you could see the wilting on the plants.

Now, I'm not too sure WHO is doing it in England these days. It may be that what started as a simple prank has turned into something else entirely. However, from the 3 that I've seen from North America, there is a definite difference in both quality (they are very "poorly" made) and construction (the North American ones typically result in a small amount of destroyed crop). There have yet to be any of the "classic" English style circles with the radial patterns, nor are there any of the more interesting shapes.

I'll admit that it looks like there's a lot to be discovered in England. I too find it hard to believe that the farmers would do it to this degree, it's just too much work. However, there are certain facts that can ONLY be explained by using people as the motive force...

- a) The incidence of the circles has grown linearly with the amount of reporting done on them by the press. I'm sorry, but I am at a loss to imagine any natural force that could do this.
- b) There are no reported crop circles in England before 1972, as the group of physicists noted above literally poured over aerial surveys and could not find one example. This too seems to rule out any possible natural force.
- c) The shapes of the "circles" has progressed from the original circles, to patterns of them, circles within circles, and finally, that wonderful shape on the Led Zepplin album cover. This point, of them all, seems to rule out the natural explanation entirely.

Evidence FOR humans can be summed up either using the above, or by adding...

- a) The original crop circles ALWAYS intersected a "sprayer row", where the wheels of the tractors tending the fields leave two parallel lines in the crop. This is the ONLY area where a person (or any other animal) can get into the field without leaving a trail.
- b) In the famous pattern where you see one large circle, surrounded by 4 small ones in a cross, you'll note that one of the 4 circles does NOT intersect a sprayer row. This particular circle has a clearly visible line of footprints leading from one of the others!
- c) Last summer, a TV crew went out to the fields with enough IR equipment to make the CIA greedy. After sitting and watching one particular field for a few days, they awoke one morning to find a circle! After clapping themselves on the back and cheering that they "finally caught one", they replayed the tapes to find people out in the field! At that point, they quickly ran down to the circle and gave a host of reasons why "this one obviously isn't real" and such, and how they weren't fooled for a second. Ya, right.

What REALLY makes me mad is that no serious attempt has been made to look into the events until just recently. I've heard some of the most boneheaded theories coming from otherwise respectable people.

For example, consider the one meteorologist in England that remains convinced that the patterns are made by small tornadoes. He continually chants about how windy weekends have more circles, but has absolutely no way of explaining the chain of events from wind to circle. The first time

I heard him on the radio, he was trying to tell us about how the wind going over a hill makes a vortecies, and that makes the pattern. However, wind going over a hill makes a HORIZONTAL vortex, and he's at a loss to explain how these chaotic winds suddenly make themselves vertical, and then organize into a very precise tornado!

When I last heard him, he was using examples of patterns that could OBVIOUSLY NOT be winds as proof positive of his claims! When anyone attempts to point this out to him, he starts horrible ad hominem arguments againced these people, right as they may be. This last summer pretty well shut him up though.

This is just one example, I've heard microbursts, static electricity, UFO's and a host of other off the wall theories. My personal view at this point is that there is finally a team at work that seems to know what the hell they are doing, so I'll just wait it out.

Maury

--

Michael Corbin - via FidoNet node 1:310/8

UUCP: !scicom!paranet!User_Name

INTERNET: mcorbin@paranet.FIDONET.ORG

-----
From: mcorbin@paranet.FIDONET.ORG (Michael Corbin)

Subject: New Affiliates

Date: 5 Jan 91 02:32:00 GMT

I would like to welcome a couple of new affiliates to the ParaNet family.

They are:

Clark Matthews
ParaNet PI(sm)
Jersey City, NJ
201-451-3063
Up after 1/5/91

John Burke
ParaNet TAU-CETI(sm)
Private System
Chicago, IL

Cheryl Mathison
ParaNet XI-BETA(sm)
San Leandro, CA
415-481-2806

Dan Toy
ParaNet ALPHA-LAMBDA(sm)
Philadelphia, PA
215-281-0810

On behalf of the group, WELCOME! Please take a moment and introduce yourselves to everyone.

Michael Corbin
Director

--

Michael Corbin - via FidoNet node 1:310/8
UUCP: !scicom!paranet!User_Name
INTERNET: mcorbin@paranet.FIDONET.ORG

-----

From: cwns1.ins.cwru.edu!ak842
Subject: RE: Mars Face
Date: 5 Jan 91 06:17:50 GMT

From: ak842@cleveland.freenet.edu (Douglas Dever)

John Finney commented on the Hogland's Mars which was canceled by NASA.
I'd just like to add to those comments....

First, though, the information which I have is from a radio transcript from the Chuck Harter Radio Show, "For The People", On WWCN, 7520 kxz, short wave, on the Sun Radio Network, Friday, December 14th, 1990.

I'd like to thank Robert Parish and the Cleveland Free-Net UFOlogy SIG for making this information available.

Although the Hogland's Mars was originally scheduled to air on West 4, it was later bumped to Space Net 1, Transponder 3. The program had footage on Cydonia and some structures which appeared to have been caused by some intelligent form of life. NASA said that they canceled the program because it advertised Richard Hogland's book. In the script, Richard Hogland says something about how he wrote an article on the same subject in his book.

If you want to find out more about 1) Why the show was canceled or 2) request that the show be aired...
You can call Dr. Robert Brown at (202) 453-1110. Or (because things in writing usually have more pull than voice requests) you can send a fax to Dr. Bondurant at (216) 433-3344.

--

** Douglas Dever ** ak842@cleveland.freenet.edu ** ac502@medina.freenet.edu **
"Run to the bedroom, in the suitcase on the left you'll find my favorite axe. Don't look so frightand, this is just a passing phase. One of my bad days."
"All in all it's just another brick in the wall" --Both Quotes of 'Pink Floyd'--

*****To have your comments in the next issue, send electronic mail to*****
'infopara' at the following address:

UUCP	{ncar,isis,boulder}!scicom!infopara
DOMAIN	infopara@scicom.alphacdc.com
ADMIN Address	infopara-request@scicom.alphacdc.com
	{ncar,isis,boulder}!scicom!infopara-request

*****The**End**of**Info-ParaNet**Newsletter*****